GREAT LUAAU

PREPARATIONS ARE NOW IN FULL SWING FOR ONE OF THE MOST ELABORATE LAAUS AND FAIRS THAT HAS EVER TAKEN PLACE IN THE ISLANDS.

The purpose of this Fair is to raise sufficient funds to complete the payment on a Home for destitute Hawaiian women. This Home will be under the direction of the Bishop and the Catholic Mission. Later on it is the intention of the Bishop to place it under the supervision of the Sisters. The Home will begin on a small scale, as its needs increase, additions will be built. Women of any belief will be admitted, providing they are Hawaiians.
The Bishop desires the Home to be self-supporting. Every effort will be made to encourage manual labor.
Those who are able must work, adding their mite towards the support of the Home. Destitute cases that will apply at the Mission will undergo the strictest investigation, and when details are found satisfactory to the Fathers, the comforts and protection of the Home will be opened to them.

Three thousand dollars are needed for the purchase of the house and lot which the clergy have in view. To this amount, already nineteen hundred dollars have been raised through public beneficence. The proceeds of the Fair will go towards paying the rest. The arrangements of the Luau and Fair have been placed entirely in the hands of Princess Kawananakoa. The ladies she has asked to take part are most enthusiastic, rendering valuable assistance by giving their time and helpful ideas to this good cause. There are in all one hundred and fifty ladies working under the Princess. Everything is running like clock-work. The Princess cannot say enough in praise of the efforts of the different committees in charge. All are working with a will, and surely success will crown their efforts.

The Luau and Fair will take place on the Princess' grounds, 1488 Pensacola street, on Saturday, May 25, the program for the day will be as follows: From 12 to 2 o'clock a light luncheon will be served. For this a fee of fifty cents will be asked. The menu comprises the following delicacies: Pork and beans, biscuits, salads, cold turkey, ham, and sandwiches of all kinds.

This booth will certainly realize the anticipations of people who want their money's worth, with such an energetic worker as Mrs. L. Whitehouse at its head. Her assistants are ladies whose names figure prominently in all fairs and charity functions as adepts in the arts of satisfying the inner man. The ladies who have kindly consented to help are: Mrs. L. Whitehouse, Mrs. A.
Fuller, Mrs. C. G. Ballentyne, Mrs. W.
H. Babbitt, Mrs. Winston, Mrs. C. Du Roi, Mrs. Jaeger and Mrs. J. Mc-Donald.

The pretty waitresses are the Misses Irene Dickson, Harrison, Sarah Lucas, Ethel Spalding and Irma Ballentyne.
They will be dressed in bright attractive colors. Prompt attention and correct change are promised.

In connection with the luncheon booth, Mrs. Eben Low will serve coffee at 10 cents a cup. Mrs. Low is noted for her delicious coffee, and this time will surpass all other efforts.

There is one other booth, but this is a secret. It will, no doubt, be the best patronized in the whole Fair, but—nuff said.

At the real flower booth, cut flowers, ferns, corsage bouquets, leis and bou-tonnières will be sold. Mrs. M. E. Gross-man, who is in charge, guarantees her assistants will ask only what is fair and reasonable for their fragrant wares. The girls assisting her will be the Misses Ada Mutch, Beatrice and Muriel Campbell, Watty Holt, Irene Boyd, Rosie Herbert and Annabel Low.
They will dress in Spanish costume, and will, no doubt, be the cynosure of all eyes.

Miss Bertha Young, whose beautiful taste in decorations is so well known, has charge of the paper flower booth.
Her assisting ladies, who are Mrs. C.
W. Case Deering, Mrs. Wm. Cushman, Mrs. James Wilder, Mrs. A. G. Hawes, and Mrs. Brooks, have promised all kinds of wonderful creations; the latest in hats, muffs, boas, besides beautiful flowers, lamp shades, and other novelties too numerous to mention.
Mrs. M. Phillips, who has the lemonade booths in charge, has spent much thought and time on its arrangements.

It will be in the form of a huge lemon, the decoration being large bows of yellow satin ribbon and branches of Chinese oranges. The ladies assisting are Mrs. A. E. Murphy, the Misses Dreier, Rhodes, McStocker, Mutch, Legros, and Thelma Murphy. They will be clad in white gowns with becoming hats and lima leis around their necks.
Such a crowd of lovely girls will be much admired. Lemonade, orangeade, cold tea, and who knows, something a wee bit stronger may be served.

People, no doubt, will flock to see the candy booth under the supervision of Mrs. E. B. McClanahan. This lady has the reputation of being the most original little woman in Honolulu. Her ideas and decorations are always out of the ordinary, and she certainly will not disappoint any of her admirers this time. The ladies assisting will be Mrs.
A. J. Gignoux, and the Misses Justine McClanahan, Vera and Violet Damon, and Dagmar Sorenson. They will be dressed to represent different candies.

The ice cream booth, in charge of Mrs. J. Dougherty, will be decorated in Japanese parasols and fans.
Those who are generously assisting are Mrs. Emmet May, Mrs. Clifford High, and Miss Roth. Surely one will not find it hard to buy a plate of ice cream served by these dainty hands. Ice cream of all kinds, sundays and delicious cakes will be offered.

The pedro booth will be on the Princess' lawn. Mrs. Alice Hastings is in charge with Mrs. George C. Beckley. A jolly good time is assured with these popular matrons in charge. Cigars and cigarettes will be under Mrs. W. M.
Graham's care. With Ivan Graham and Renold McGrew assisting, the emergence of this lady is too well known for comment.

On the Luau, the most thought and trouble have been expended. A huge tent will be erected and covered with coconut leaves. The decorations will be on a most elaborate scale.
There are five long tables, at the head of which there will be ladies prominent in the social life of the monarchical days, representative of all that is most gracious and dignified. These are Mrs.
Laura Mahelona, Mrs. Lokala Holt, Mrs. Cathcart, Mrs. Lizzie Kinney and Mrs. J. Palko, Jr. The five tables will seat two hundred at a time. The ladies who will attend to the wants of visitors will number seventy-five in all. They will be dressed in white with the bright colors and gorgeous flower leis so dear to the Hawaiian heart. All the delicacies of the season will be served; pig cooked underground, sweet potatoes, fish, chicken with coconut, crab, ophio, squid with coconut, dried fish, kuloio, poi ulu, and other relishes.

No expense will be spared to make everything of the best.

The children's amusements have also been looked after. The Misses Schaefer have charge of the grab-box, and all sorts of wonderful things are promised for fifteen cents. The crowning joy of the afternoon for the wee ones will be a Punch and Judy show.
Popular Guy Livingston has promised to help out. We all know what that means.

Her Majesty the Queen will be present during the afternoon.

Herr Berger and his faithful boys are most generous with their offers of music, and will play throughout the afternoon, from one to five.

At one o'clock, the Fair will start and continue to five. From five to seven the Luau doors will be opened. The best Quartet Club in Honolulu has been secured to play during the feast.

At the request of many friends, Princess Kawananakoa has decided to erect an open platform for dancing.
This platform will be eighty by thirty feet, and covered with Mrs. Sam Parker's dancing cloth. It is the largest and finest in Honolulu. As the modest sum of twenty-five cents apiece, only, will be asked, the Princess begs that no one will take advantage of the open platform by jumping over the ropes instead of coming in at the entrance, as this is the only way this platform can be enclosed. Mr. Cushman Carter has kindly consented to take the arrangements for this in hand.

No admittance fee will be charged.
The grounds will be open to the public.
Chairs for the comfort of visitors will be scattered about, eight hundred and fifty having been generously donated by Colonel Sam Parker for the occasion. The novelty of dancing in the moonlight will, no doubt, appeal to our honored visitors, for whom sixty tickets have already been engaged for the Luau. Everybody is asked to come.

The grounds will be open to all, rich and poor alike. The tickets for the Luau are one dollar. These will be collected at the entrance.

The decorations in charge of Mrs. A.
P. Taylor, Mrs. Chillingworth, and Miss Lorna Iaukea are to be very grand. Greens from Manoa and Tantalus have been offered. Under the guidance of these ladies, the grounds will be changed into a veritable bower of loveliness.

What with pretty girls, a jolly crowd, good music, and a moonlight night, what more could a mortal ask!

THE SURPLUS OF THE FIDELITY

In another part of the Star will be found the financial statement of the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland as of December 31st, 1906.
Same shows the total assets of the company to be $4,188,569, of which $1,- $36,381 is capital and surplus. The surplus of a surety company is its loss paying power without impairing its capital. The surplus of the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland is $2,852,181.

Recently the different departments of the U. S. Government issued orders restricting surety companies to 10% of their capital and surplus on any one bond. The qualifying power of the
Maryland under this ruling is $483,635.
The Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland is one of the oldest surety companies in existence, as well as one of the strongest.

Its representatives in the Territory of Hawaii are Messrs. Bishop & Company of Honolulu.

Premier Campbell-Bannerman says the British House of Lords will be reformed. Owing to the fact that the Lords will have to vote in favor of reformation before it can be achieved, there are strong reasons for believing that the premier is merely guessing.—

No other make has ever stood the test and by means of the removable ice chamber as well as removable shelves, drain pipes, traps, etc., we have

THE GURNEY

Listen not to idle talk and arguments put forth in favor of cleanable proreceptacle for the ice and it is here where all other makes fail. There's the weakness that cannot be overcome by them.

The Gurney with its removal Ice Chamber feature has supplied the great
